Akron Man Dies on Rt. 30

Body Found In Wreckage Near Minerva

James Toothman, 19, Of Salem Seriously Hurt In Rt. 14 Crash

A 23-year-old Akron man was killed on Rt. 30 at about 1 a. m. Sunday in a one-car crash which went unnoticed for almost seven hours.

State Highway Patrolmen at the Lisbon post said victim of the accident was Patrick Macken, 758 Colette Dr., Akron. They said the wreckage of Macken's car was found about 200 feet off the road at a point about two and one-half miles east of Minerva.

They said Macken's body was discovered near the front portion of his car which was demolished and scattered over a wide area.

Patrolmen surmised that he was traveling at a "very high rate" of speed in his 1953 model car when he failed to negotiate a curve in the road. His car went straight ahead, shearing off two trees, a "railroad warning standard and two fence posts.

Force of the collision pulled one of the trees, a sizeable one, up by the roots, officers said. One patrolman said, "he car was scattered all over the landscape."

The accident was discovered at about 8 a. m. Sunday. Macken was pronounced dead by the coroner, William Kolozsi. He suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. The body was taken to the Gotschall-Hutchison Funeral Home, Minerva.

In Poor Condition

A Salem youth is in poor condition in the Central Clinic this morning with injuries he suffered in a two-car collision on Alternate Rt. 14 Sunday at 5:50 p. m.

State Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred about one-half mile northwest of Salem when a car driven south by David Huffman, 22, of 1125 E. State St., hit a northbound car driven by Joseph Righetti, 32, Fredericktown, Pa.

James Toothman, 19, of the Metzger Hotel, riding with Huffman, suffered multiple lacerations of the skull and internal injuries. He is in poor condition at the clinic.

Patrolmen said Huffman tried to avoid traffic ahead of him, apparently lost control and slid into the left-hand lane, colliding with Righetti.

Huffman was charged with reckless operation.

A third driver, Roy Sproull, 24, of East Liverpool, was charged with failure to keep an assured clear distance, after his car ran into a ditch at the accident scene.

Patrolmen said Sproull came into the accident area about one minute after it occurred and ran into the ditch trying to avoid traffic.

In another accident at 3 a. m. on Sunday, Dale Hayman, 33, of RD 3, Salem, was treated and released at Central Clinic for minor injuries he suffered when his car went off the right side of Rt. 9 and into a ditch. The accident occurred at Salem.

David Moore, 28, of Youngstown, was arrested for reckless operation at 1:15 a. m. Sunday after he lost control of his car on Rt. 45, about one-tenth of a mile north of Wellsville and collided with another car driven by Robert Parfitt, 30, East Liverpool. There were no injuries.

Life or Death Prize as 6 Ships Play Tug-of-War off England

By COLIN FROST
ABOARD A PLANE OVER THE ENGLISH COAST (AP) — On the crinkled waters of the Spithead Channel today six ships played tug-of-war—with life or death as the prize.

Four of the ships were British tugs. Their task was to pull apart an American freighter and a Norwegian tanker locked together after a shattering collision. The American ship's nose was firmly fixed in the tanker's port bow as gradually the two drifted toward the shallows.

Fire Biggest Danger
Fire was the biggest danger. The tanker's cargo was highly inflammable oil. Yet another peril was a big fort planted in the channel to beat off mine-laying planes in World War II.

The tugs won their battle—and just in time. Soon the two ships were under tow and on their way to safety.

This correspondent watched the last stages of the drama from a low-circling plane. A big gap showed in the tanker's side, like a slice from a gigantic cake. The American ship's bow was shattered. As the plane swooped low, you could see right into the freighter's forward hold, littered with crumpled packing cases, and see waves on the other side.

Three men stood on the foredeck of the tanker, the 11,000-ton Gorm of Loro. One looked up briefly to wave to the plane. Then he turned back with the others anxiously watching the waves lapping over the listing ship's port side.

Ship's Crew Removed

The freighter, the 6,125-ton Santa Alicia, showed not a sign of life above decks. Twenty of the crew had been taken off because of the risk of fire.

But men were still at work down below. Soon after the ships came apart the Santa Alicia's crew started churning to help the tugs avoid the dangerous shallows.

A tug called the Flying Kestrel took the Santa Alicia in charge, towing her stern first to keep seawater out of her gaping forward hold.

Kennedy Bids For Delegates

Opens Campaign In New England

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — With pledges of solid support from all the New England states at the Democratic National Convention in July, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) made his first pitch today to clinch these delegates.

He has a round of speeches, receptions, rallies and handshaking tours of factories here and in Manchester for his one-day stand in New Hampshire.

New Hampshire has only 11 votes in the national convention. The campaign here is important since New Hampshire's March 8 primary is the first in the nation.

Party leaders from all six New England states assured Sen. Kennedy Sunday night at a Boston dinner that he will have a solid New England bloc of 114 delegates when he goes to Los Angeles in July.

Kennedy was handed a check for $50,000—part of the net proceeds of a record $74,000 raised by Massachusetts' Jefferson-Jackson Committee at a $100 per plate affair.

Kennedy said the contribution will come in handy as he goes across the country in the next few months. He said he will enter five of six state primaries in his quest for delegates in a campaign he said is aimed to give the people in the Democratic party an opportunity to participate in the selection of their candidate—"instead of having a nominee handed to them."

Sharp Defends U.S. Missile Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will the Soviet Union have more ready-to-go missiles than the United States in any period through 1963?

"They might. I think it is doubtful, but they might. But in no way will we have an over-all deterrent gap," said Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp.

Over-all deterrent strength is the important point, Sharp said Sunday in a television interview.

"It isn't whether they have a few more missiles than we have. The important thing is that our total over-all posture is such that they wouldn't dare attack without receiving such a formidable attack themselves that they would never want to do it," he added.

How big might the missile gap be? If there is one, Sharp said, it will be smaller than the 3-1 superiority which former Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy said a year ago the Soviets might move to in long-range missile superiority. Sharp declined to give a more specific estimate.

The Pentagon's view that there is no deterrent gap got support Sunday from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.). He said in a radio interview "I do not agree that there is this great missile gap."

Saltonstall, senior Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said "we are ahead of the Russians in the general opinion on certain parts of the missile problem. They are ahead of us in the question of thrust."

Stockholders' Approval Awaited Feb. 8

N.Y. Firm to Buy Hunt Valve Co.

The International Basic Economy Corporation of New York City this week is expected to acquire the Hunt Valve Company of Salem.

Negotiations for the sale of the company's assets totaling two and one-half million dollars are expected to be completed when the stockholders meet Feb. 8.

The sale to the New York corporation has been recommended to stockholders and its approval is expected, a spokesman for the Hunt Valve Co. said.

No changes in personnel or manufacturing operations are anticipated it was said.

Hunt Valve was begun in 1919 under the name of "C. B. Hunt & Son" when N. C. Hunt, now president and chairman of the board, acquired the rights to the "Quick-as-Wink" hose couplings from the former Mullins Manufacturing Corporation.

This marked the beginning of a series of valve designs and developments that gave the Salem firm one of the most comprehensive lines of control valves in the industry.

Hunt Valve, which is a major producer of air and hydraulic control valves, recently completed an office expansion at the local plant which was also modernized several years ago.

With Mr. Hunt named president in a reorganization program last June, Lester A. Bateman, formerly of the Murray Corporation here, is executive vice president; Howard E. Jesko, vice president, and Andrew V. Ney, sales manager.

The firm employs around 100.

Pennsylvania Dems Select Delegates

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic party picks the nation's first large block of presidential convention delegates today. They most likely will be uncommitted.

The 42 delegates-at-large elected by the Democratic State Committee will have half a vote each at the July convention in Los Angeles.

The public will choose 120 district delegates—each with half a vote—at the April 26 primary election, thus completing the state's 81-vote delegation, third largest in the nation.

Only Alaska has chosen its convention delegates. Gov. David L. Lawrence, one of the country's most powerful Democrats, was certain to get the chairmanship of the delegation.

The 70-year-old governor was expected to tell the delegates not to commit themselves. His aides have said he wants the delegation free to maneuver at the convention.

Only one man in line for a delegate-at-large post has come out publicly for a presidential hopeful, House Speaker H. G. Andrews is for Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.).

The governor, also a Democratic national committeeman, reportedly favors either Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) or Adlai Stevenson.

Fires Across Nation Fatal To 20 Persons

By The Associated Press

More than 20 persons, most of them children, perished in fires scattered across the country Sunday.

Six persons, all Negroes, burned to death when flames enveloped a farm house near Manning, S.C. Three other persons were burned, two critically, in that fire. The fire started when gasoline spilled from a can and ran into an open fire. The room, crowded with 20 persons at a social gathering, was quickly enveloped in flames.

At Tompkinsville, Ky., six children of one Negro family were killed when fire swept a home. The parents escaped with one child. An eighth child was away from home.

Four children died in a fire at a Philadelphia home. The parents and one child were saved.

At Dallas, Tex., three children burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home.

A boy, 19, and a girl, 15, were found dead in the burned wreckage of an auto near Hardwick, Vt. Police believed they were overcome by carbon monoxide before an unexplained fire broke out.

Army Mopping Up Last Areas Of Resistance

Rightist Diehards Defy Appeal to Lay Down Arms

ALGIERS (AP) — Armed diehard French rightists held out today behind makeshift barricades in the heart of Algiers.

Dawn found the capital quiet but tense in the wake of Sunday night's fighting and panic that left 19 persons dead and 153 wounded.

The army seemed firmly in control, except for two pockets where about 1,000 insurgents were holed up.

The uprising against President Charles de Gaulle's self-determination policy pitted Frenchmen against Frenchmen in Algeria, already bleeding from a five-year revolt of nationalists.

Censorship Imposed
A stiff military censorship was imposed on outgoing news dispatches, but there was no objection to calling Sunday's rising a fight to keep Algeria French.

Trucks of paratroopers lined Avenue Pasteur along the western flank of the barricaded areas. The holdouts showed signs of their all-night watch as they silently stared at passers-by who hurried along in the bleak dawn.

Despite a military order banning assembly of more than three persons, groups gathered around the barricaded areas and stared grimly at the insurgents who had hoisted tattered French tricolors.

Here and there merchants who shuttered their windows when the rioting broke out Sunday night began to open their stores.

Newspapers Sell Quickly

The three Algiers morning daily newspapers, all censored, sold quickly. They printed dispatches reporting minor demonstrations of sympathy in Oran and Constantine.

Inside the barricaded area rebellious groups sang a rousing Marseillaise.

The Government Building on Forum Hill, scene of Sunday night's clash, looked like an armed camp. Steel-helmeted police and riot squads spread out army rations in the lobbies and corridors.

The Echo d'Alger said in a front page editorial that "French blood has been spilled climaxing the disillusionment of which we are drinking the bitter chalice for so many years." Alain de Serigny, publisher of the newspaper, took part in Sunday's demonstration.

The army said that among the victims were 8 policemen killed and 80 wounded.

Fighting Losing Battle

Leaders of the rebellious Frenchmen, who had counted on army sympathy and support, admitted they were fighting a losing battle. The supreme commander of the French forces in Algeria stood stoutly behind De Gaulle and warned "the mutiny will not win."

A band of several hundred insurgents held out on the grounds of Algiers University in the center of the capital and in the adjacent Rue Michelet for a last-ditch stand after police and troops broke up mobs of demonstrators that swelled to 20,000.

The diehards defied an appeal from De Gaulle to lay down their arms.

Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme French military commander in Algeria, clamped martial law in the capital and imposed censorship on all outgoing news dispatches. There were no reports of trouble outside the city of Algiers.

(The Paris government banned public meetings throughout France and "all manifestations in public places" to prevent demonstrations by supporters of the Algerian rightwingers on the mainland.)

The French rightists set up a three-man junta led by Pierre LaGaillarde, a Parliament deputy. Wearing the uniform of a reserve paratroop lieutenant, the bearded six-foot LaGaillarde barricaded

11 Die In Ohio Road Mishaps

Two Double-Fatal Accidents Recorded

Traffic
Fires
Miscellaneous
Total

By The Associated Press

At least 13 people were killed in Ohio between 6 p. m. last Friday and midnight Sunday. Eleven of them were victims of the No. 1 threat, traffic.

Lives cut short ranged from that of a two-year old boy killed with his father when their car left U.S. 25 and rolled down an embankment near Wapakoneta to that of an 86-year-old Cincinnati who apparently succumbed to exposure after a fall down the steps of his home.

The first of the above was one of two double-fatal mishaps. The other came when two young men died as a freight train hit their car at a crossing near Uhrichsville. The exposure death and a drowning accounted for the non-traffic toll.

There were no deaths in fires but a fireman was killed when his firetruck upset en route to a blaze near Paulding.

The fatalities:

Drill Bores Toward Trapped Miners

COALBROOK, South Africa (AP) — A high speed drill today bored steadily toward 440 men trapped deep in a coal mine since Thursday.

Fresh rockslides clogged the main shaft with tons of earth, halting underground rescue efforts. Mine officials ordered an emergency shaft sunk to try to get food and air to the men if they are still alive.

Managers of the Clydesdale colliery, where the massive rock fall occurred, rushed the drill here from an iron mine in the northern Transvaal.

The drill which bores a hole 15 inches in diameter, penetrated 80 feet within a couple of hours, then struck a rock formation. Engineers estimated it would take 40 hours to reach the area where the men are trapped.

Ledges Show Carvings of Visitors Over Years

Fredericktown Historic Spot

By JAMES MURPHY

German script, Chinese writing, a clown, and a parachutist—these are only a few of the many carvings visible along the rocky north fork of Little Beaver Creek at Fredericktown in southern Columbiana County.

A favorite place for picnics as early as the turn of the century, historic Fredericktown still draws a host of visitors during the hot summer months, when the cool waters of Beaver Creek are greatly appreciated.

The state recently announced it would help to improve the Beaver Creek park site by cleaning up the old locks and laying out trails for hikers.

Countless picnickers have carved their initials and dates, as well as more artistic subjects, in the resistant sandstone ledges along the creek. Children love to explore the cracks and crevices in the waterworn stone and wade or catch minnows in the shallow pools of water left among the rocks.

The Rapids At Fredericktown, A Familiar Scene

PERHAPS THE MOST interesting of the many carvings is a large rectangular memorial to a young man who drowned in the creek around 1875. The man was a teacher at Fredericktown, and his pupils carved the tablet in remembrance of him.

This and the other carvings may be seen after a short walk from the bridge in Fredericktown along the dry millrace west of the stream.

The massive foundation stones of Culbertson's grist mill remain beside the little iron bridge, although the mill itself fell down around 1916.

Begun in 1840 by William and John Eaton, the five-story frame building wasn't finished until 1849. The new owner, David Culbertson, ran it so well that a barrel of his flour took first prize in a national contest held in Philadelphia. This is one of several mills whose ruins can be seen beside the creek.

WITH ITS BEAUTIFUL scenery and many historic ruins, Fredericktown offers much to both the amateur photographer and the nature lover.

There are several old canal locks close to the little village, for Fredericktown was an important stop on the Sandy and Beaver canal. In fact, the Downey blast furnace on nearby Hazel Run supplied much of the iron used in constructing the canal.

During canal days there was a long covered bridge, east of the present concrete span, leading across the creek to the site of Jamestown, one of the many canal towns that now exist only in records at the county courthouse at Lisbon.

Foreign Firms Cut Steel Prices to Keep U.S. Markets

CLEVELAND (AP) — Foreign steel prices are being cut as overseas producers try to keep the American accounts they picked up during the 116-day strike by steelworkers last year, steel magazine reported today.

The metalworking weekly said steelmakers in western Europe have reduced their price on hot rolled sheets by $40 a ton while cold rolled and galvanized sheets have been reduced $26 a ton.

Meanwhile, the magazine reported that shipments of finished steel from mills in this country are running 25 per cent ahead of consumption as users rebuild their strike-depleted inventories at a rapid rate. Shipments this month are expected to total 8.5 million tons with consumption estimated at 6.8 million tons.

Steel said consumption in March may jump to 7.4 million tons as automobile manufacturers strive to reach their first quarter production goals and weather stimulates construction activity.

"Demand for sheets and tin plate is nearly as strong as it was before the strike settlement," the publication said. "Users expect a tight market through June, but they are concentrating on getting first quarter deliveries. Automakers are still pressing for all the sheets they can get."

NOTED ARCHITECT DIES
CLEVELAND (AP) — William H. Nicklas, 93, who designed church buildings in 23 states and six Canadian provinces and was architect for several Cleveland Public Library branches, died Saturday at his home in Shaker Heights. He was a teacher and principal at New Philadelphia High School before coming to Cleveland in 1897.

A PROVEN HERB REMEDY FOR THE PAST 17 YEARS.

Police reinforcements, rushed to the clash scene in suburban Cato Manor, managed to restore an uneasy peace. Armed patrols roamed the area.

First word of trouble came when a radio operator at Cato Manor police station received a message saying: "Oh God, they are stoning us. Come and help us."

A strong police detachment was rushed to the area as thousands of residents in the town barricaded themselves in their homes. At the scene they found nine police battered to death and one severely injured.

An unofficial account said police had gone into the suburb to investigate the murder of an African.

CITIES AILMENT CAUSES
CINCINNATI (AP) — A Michigan expert on ills of the aging says "lack of exercise, lack of mental activity and faulty nutrition are responsible for many of the ailments usually attributed to old age." Dr. F. C. Swartz told the annual meeting of Shelters Oaks Hospital here Sunday that "youngsters should adopt now the habits of living that will be of great value in later life."

FORMER EDITOR DIES
CLEVELAND (AP) — Stanley A. Knisely, city editor of the old Canton Daily News in World War I days, died Sunday in South Egremont, Mass. He lived there since retiring several years ago. He came to Cleveland from Canton in 1917 and was a newsman on the Cleveland Plain Dealer until 1921 when he became promotion manager for the National Paving Brick Assn. of Cleveland.

Six Out of Every 10 U.S. Families Own Their Homes

A record six out of every ten U.S. families own their own homes, according to figures just released by the Federal Reserve Board. There are now over 29 million owner-occupied homes compared to 20 million in 1949, a jump of nearly 50 per cent in the past ten years.

A record number of 2.5 million families bought new or existing homes in 1958, according to H. V. Simpson, executive vice president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association.

COMPACT AND COMFORTABLE — This handsome ranch has the features of a much larger house — three bedrooms, vestibule, separate dining room, good-sized kitchen and bow window in the living room. A snack pass-through from the kitchen to the living room makes entertaining easier. The plan, HA121F, has 1,050 square feet of floor space, and is by Architect Alan Wood Fraser, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York, N.Y.

Information Of Interest to Homeowners

From many different sources comes these various tidbits of interest to homeowners:

Housing experts, who don't always see eye to eye, are pretty much agreed that there will be a drop of about 10 per cent in home building this year. The only thing that might change the picture, they say, is a sudden easing of the tight money market, a development not expected.

When selecting a color from those little cards or "chips," remember that the color will appear slightly darker when applied to a large area such as a wall.

No matter how vapor-tight the walls of a house are, clothes dryers should be vented to the outside to prevent excessive moisture indoors.

A Texas realtor sold a house in Houston for $325,000 CASH. He claims it is the largest all-cash residential sale ever made.

Some real estate authorities feel that the 6.6 per cent vacancy rate for rental units recently quoted by the Census Bureau was misleading. They point out that a considerable percentage of these vacancies lack plumbing and other facilities to make them habitable. In the active market, these authorities explain, the rate of rental vacancies actually is less than half the figure released by the Census Bureau.

Parchment lampshades can be preserved and protected with a thin coat of clear shellac.

A record number of workers in 1960 is expected to shift into residential areas new to them, thanks to the continuing decentralization of industry, which in turn is spurred by the federal highway program from coast to coast.

New on the market for do-it-yourselfers is a radial drill press, heretofore used only in industrial plants.

The manufacturers of water conditioning equipment are looking for a big increase in sales, due to a recognition by prospective home buyers of the fact that soft, conditioned water makes homemaking tasks easier and saves more than it costs over the years.

States applying for planning assistance from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal government now will be required show that such planning will embrace the total urbanized area, including fringe localities and adjoining sections.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: We have an old garage, roofed with wooden shingles. The shingles are not in very good condition and we would like to have a new roof put on. Can it be put on over the old shingles?

ANSWER: Yes, you can have the new roof put right over the old shingles. If a professional roofer is doing it, he will know enough to nail down any loose shingles and take any other steps necessary to insure proper attachment of the new roofing material.

QUESTION: We have striped canvas-type awnings that have faded considerably but are still in good condition. Can these be repainted and, if so, what kind of paint should be used?

ANSWER: Yes, awnings can be repainted. However, it would be a difficult job and take a long time to repaint them in the original striped design. It would be easier merely to use a solid color. It is best to buy a special paint made for painting awnings and it is made of similar material. But if you have some exterior paint on hand and want to make use of it for repainting the awnings, be sure to thin it considerably before applying. If this is not done, the awnings will become too stiff for rolling.

QUESTION: At one point on one side of our house, mildew keeps forming. We have washed it away several times with water, but it comes back after a while. A neighbor has suggested that the mildew is being caused by shrubbery which is too near the house in that area. Is this true? And how can the mildew be washed off so it won't return?

ANSWER: The mildew probably is being caused by the shrubbery being so near to the house. It is likely that the shrubbery keeps that side of the house damp longer than the other sides, which are getting the full benefit of the sun. You have a choice of moving the shrubbery or, at the least, keeping it away from the house with some kind of tie-back arrangement. The mildew can be effectively washed away with a mixture of one-quarter pound washing soda to a gallon of clear water. Be sure that the area is rinsed well.

Ohio Republicans and George Bender

If George Bender goes through with his apparent intention of asking Ohio Republicans in the May primary for a showdown on his desire to join the Ohio Republican delegation in the national convention next summer, he must be ready to accept what we believe will be harsh judgment.

Mr. Bender accepted an appointment in midsummer 1958 to head an "antiracket commission" to clean up the International Brotherhood of Teamsters at a time when the union and its president, James R. Hoffa, were under severe scrutiny by the Senate Rackets Committee.

The upshot of this decision by the Ohioan was a subsequent statement by Hoffa that the commission had found his union to be "free of corruption," though the two other members of the commission denied joining Bender in any report to that effect.

To this day, it never has been made clear either to any official agency or to the public in any unofficial way what Bender did in his assignment other than to be paid by Hoffa.

Any net effect as far as Hoffa and the union are concerned has not been discernible. But the net effect as far as Bender is concerned has been discernible to everybody but him.

As a political symbol, the Ohioan's future influence was diminished by his association with an organization whose reputation has been clouded by so many dark doubts its officials are operating under the watchful supervision of a board of monitors appointed by a federal judge.

Mr. Bender chose of his own will to make this association. He took what to him must have appeared as a calculated risk, insofar as his own political status was concerned. He is above all a seasoned and shrewd politician. He cannot say he is surprised by the opinion of his political peers that he hurt himself politically by his association with Mr. Hoffa.

If that is the judgment he wants delivered on himself by going before Ohio Republicans in their party primary next May, we feel certain he will get it.

This Is Not the Same Castro

Withdrawal of the United States ambassador to Cuba marks an apparent turning point in relations with that troubled country, though no one is in a position to say what the new road will be.

The United States tried sympathy and understanding. It gave Cuba's strong man a chance to strut his stuff in Washington, New York and a few way-stops last spring.

It has been patient and forbearing. It has been cooperative. It has been tactful. It has given Castro a chance to find himself and organize a government. It has tried forgiving and forgetting.

For its pains, to date, it has clinched nothing but a high place on the young politician's list of hatreds. Many careful observers, including some of Castro's comrades in arms during the Cuban revolution, are sure this is not the same Fidel Castro who led the overthrow of Fulgencio Batista's regime.

These observers feel certain that Castro either was playing along with the Communists, who have been busy in the revolution, or that the Communists have seized the opportunity to make him their prisoner by surrounding him with people and circumstances that make it impossible for him to serve anything but Communist objectives. Logic favors the second view.

THE UNITED STATES now is confronted with the probability that the Communist conspiracy may set up one of its outposts in the Caribbean Sea. All strongly worded protests and economic sanctions would have no effect whatever if that happened.

But what can the United States do to keep it from happening, assuming that his country will not resort to armed force, lest it run afoul of emotional nationalism in Latin America and the censure not only of the United Nations, its principal allies in Europe and an angry public opinion at home?

Instead of muttering about strongly worded protests, a slash in sugar quotas to go with the virtual disappearance of tourist business and the voluntary ban on investments in Cuban enterprise, the United States might try the one thing it never has dared to carry on in the open.

It could make its own bid for popular support in Cuba.

It could do everything in its power as a good neighbor who wants to stay that way, to offset the strong bid of the Communists who are busy in Cuba.

It could act directly and realistically on the knowledge that the Fidel Castro who now lashes and excommunicates friend and foe is not the same man who presented himself as the liberator of the have-nothings of Cuba.

It could start a people-to-people program to let Cubans know that the United States still feels enthusiastic about the aspirations of the original Fidel Castro — the big friendly man who wanted Americans to visit his beautiful Cuba, who wanted Americans to invest in Cuban industry and who wanted to purge Cuba of the terror and violence of the Batista years.

THIS WOULD amount to interference with a constituted government; that charge would be made, and it would be based in fact.

But it would amount to interference for the purpose of holding the Communist conspiracy at bay in the New World. It would be a modern refinement of the philosophy of the Monroe Doctrine — that the New World would not welcome the mischief-makers of the Old World when they came here bent on shaping new governments to carry on their ancient wars.

Richard Nixon's Own Campaign

In his University of Florida speech last week, Vice President Nixon said what was obvious—that he would continue the Eisenhower administration's policies and build on them, if he became president of the United States.

But in the furtherance of his campaign, Mr. Nixon will have to come to grips with something not so obvious now as it is certain to be next September and October, if he is the Republican presidential nominee.

He will be expected to develop his own

"image" as a candidate for the nation's highest elective office. It will not be enough "to be liked by Ike." The presidency is a dynamic office; it does not stand still. The years from 1961 to 1965 will call for new mandates and assertions.

Vice President Nixon's most valuable characteristic as a public figure is his demonstrated ability to do well any job that circumstances call on him to do. He has been the embodiment in his political generation of adaptability to the needs of the positions he has held.

As the Republican party's presidential candidate this year, if that is to become his new role, he must assert himself strongly as the forward-looking leader of his party before he can expect to command the voting support that would install him as leader of the government.

Above all, he must aim for uncommitted voters—the "independents" who can be "converted" to Republicanism if they find in Mr. Nixon greater potentialities of national leadership than they find in his Democratic opponent.

Whoever that opponent turns out to be, he will have the same task that is going to challenge Mr. Nixon—to create a fresh image of leadership, consistent with what has been done before but not overshadowed by the predecessors who did it.

Supermarkets lose millions yearly through stolen metal carts. Seems housewives who never think of swiping a banana, think nothing of making off with the wagon. Just heard of a case where the police, finding a supermarket carrier in a backyard asked about it and got the reply, "Well, what do you know? It must have followed me home."

Boat buying is now made easier by the help of banks which have special "boat loans" departments pleading with the public to come in and borrow money on easy terms to join yachting circles. Some terms allow seven years to pay, with as little down as $500 on "dream boats."

Victor Riesel

I've slugged it out with Nazis on big city streets and there are knife wounds in my arms to remind me of the fist-fest. I was high on Goebbels' blacklist. Swastika men gas-chambered relatives, including at least one who tried to take on half the Reichswehr by blacking out Vienna with a series of powerline short circuits. But there's a double standard in this recent spitting on Germany.

Why the awesome silence over what has been developing inside the socialist camp — the workers' state?

There is evidence that the wife of the caretaker of a synagogue in the Moscow suburb of Malankovka was strangled and thrown into the arsonist's fire which burned down the building.

Anti-Semitic pamphlets were strewn around the charred place of worship.

THAT GASTLY PYRE was set afire Oct. 4. That was Rosh Hashna, the Jewish New Year's. But grim though it is, its flames are not more ghoulish than the flames of hatred officially broadcast by official Soviet "agit-prop" — agitation-propaganda specialists — in Nikita S. Khrushchev's native language to the state which he once governed and in which he was born.

This is the Ukraine, long the center of hatred for Jewish folk.

It is into this area that the chairman loves to go and mix with the workers of farm and factory.

Experts do not consider it possible that he would not be aware of the broadcasts of Radio Kirovograd. This is a powerful transmitter named for a great Soviet hero.

The air waves are stirred by anti-Semitic blasts in Ukrainian Via Odessa on the Oblast Regional Service.

Experts have paralleled these broadcasts with whole sections of the happily-late Julius Streicher in "Der Stuermer."

The Ukrainian broadcasts, all of which must have official permission from those responsible to the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee, of which Herr Khrushchev is first secretary, are written in basic Nazi jargon.

Sabbath prayers in the few synagogues permitted to the Jews are referred to as "debaucheries."

The Judaic religion is referred to as "boozie" or "moonshine" depending on your translator. The sacred custom of circumcision is characterized in terms no newspaper should repeat. There is the lethal Nazi charge that the Jews want to rule the world.

IS THIS THE CULTURE Khrushchev wants to exchange with us? Will the troubled air over the Ukraine seethe with attacks on Judaism as the President of the United States flies in devout honesty on his good will visit to Herr Khrushchev?

On Dec. 9, three weeks before Neo-Nazis painted their spleen on the peaceful walls of the Cologne Synagogue, this is what the Radio Kirovograd spat out in the early morning hours as workers of the district arose to dress and breakfast before reporting for work:

"As we know, during the Soviet rule many of the rabbis, ministers of the Jewish faith, had an inimical attitude towards the Socialist system and opposed the interests of the Soviet people for the benefit of internal counter-revolution and international imperialism. . . . Sermons by Rabbi Isaac Spektor hardly differ from the awful theory of the uniqueness of the Aryan race and its destiny to rule over the peoples of the entire world."

"Thus praying, they call for the killing of all those who deny the Pentateuch — the Jewish prayerbook. The city synagogue has become a shelter for all sorts of hoboes . . ."

"Judaic sermons are sermons of bourgeois Zionists. Such sermons are tools of the nationalistic, Israeli, cosmopolitan American bourgeoisie. There are unusual goings on at No. 56 Kirov st. in Kirovograd where the Orthodox Jews are being drugged with Booze and the Jewish religion."

The synagogue is at 56 Kirov st. It is such a little place for a shrine of so ancient a culture. Perhaps N. S. Khrushchev wants to exchange it. What will he take for the tears and heartaches of a people?

Communist Hoax

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Anti-Semitic Outbreaks Produced By Reds

The Communists have put over a gigantic hoax. They have almost persuaded a gullible world to believe that the West German people are responsible for the outbreaks of anti-Semitism in recent weeks. Actually, proof now has been obtained that the whole thing is a Communist plot.

The Soviet David Lawrence government maintains an active apparatus of agents in all countries, including the United States. The same technique that was employed in West Germany was used throughout the world. It is one of the boldest pieces of propaganda that the Communists have ever tried. Will they continue to get away with it?

Already they have been assisted by the persons who pooh-pooh all Communist espionage and artificial provocations. Yet no such coordinated activity as the world has been witnessing could possibly be just the work of hooligans or persons bent on playing pranks.

Some individuals doubtless can be found who engaged in it without inspiration but the facts now coming to light show that the Communists, acting through their apparatus in East Germany, started it all in West Germany as a political maneuver to discredit the Adenauer government.

A PRESS DISPATCH from Bonn on Jan. 20 says:

"The West German government announced today that it has proof the Communists are behind many recent anti-Semitic incidents."

"An official spokesman said after a full-scale cabinet meeting that the ministers discussed at length the question of Communist inspiration of the rash of anti-Jewish activities. He said that the interior ministry, in co-operation with the state governments, will publish a white paper on the subject at some future date still to be determined."

"Even today," he added, "it can be said that Communist actions can be proven in three different areas or in three different roles. These are: (1) as instigators, (2) as perpetrators and (3) in making full propaganda use of the incidents to defame the federal republic as a glance at the (East German) Soviet Zone press shows."

Some of the evidence comes in the form of a confession by Bernhard Schlotmann, 22, treasurer of the neo-Nazi National Students' Federation, that he was under East German secret orders to stir up neo-Nazi activity in West Berlin.

Another youngster, Wolfgang Solondz, who illegally crossed the border into West Berlin last year, has just been arrested as a Communist agent. He had become a member of the National Youth of Germany, a "rightist" organization which was banned last week and boasted that he could get weapons from the Soviet zone.

THE WEST GERMAN defense ministry has issued a paper based on reports of its intelligence service.

It says that, at a special meeting on Jan. 23 last year, the Central Committee on the Communist party in the Soviet zone laid plans to develop anti-Semitic incidents as a means of damaging the reputation of the Bonn government. Semism was being revived.

The committee's propaganda section was instructed to start a campaign to indicate that anti-Semitism was the work of the East German Communist authorities. The report further says that the "action commandos" to desecrate Jewish monuments, while the Communist underground in West Germany was given orders to co-operate in any activities that could create unrest in the federal republic.

Students in an East Berlin university, according to the report, were advised that anti-Semitic demonstrations would be staged in West Berlin and that they should take part not only in these but in any rally, whether it was for or against the Jews.

In December, the Defense Ministry says, an order was issued by the East German authorities that incidents were to be created in due time prior to the "summit" meeting in May.

What could be more natural than for a propaganda chief sitting in Moscow to order Communist agents everywhere, including those in the United States, to stir up antagonism against the West German government on the theory that his would weaken Chancellor Adenauer's influence with the other governments of the free world and bring about the withdrawal of the Allies from West Berlin?

THE GAME is plain to see, and from now on more and more evidence can be expected to be revealed showing how the Communists engineered the anti-Semitic disturbances for political purposes.

It certainly should show the American people that in their midst are active Communists who do Moscow's bidding.

Just a few days ago J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, said that, while the Communists in this country aren't large in numbers, they have a hard core of workers who are ready to do almost anything that Moscow commands.

It's too bad that so many people in America regard the Communist menace as just something Sen. Joe McCarthy dreamed up.

Moscow has been more effective inside the United States since the Wisconsin senator's efforts to uncover the Communist plots were defeated than it was before, though the "achievement" of Klaus Fuchs in stealing the atomic-bomb secrets still ranks as the most successful piece of infiltration of modern times.

New York Herald Tribune

Completely Functional

By TRUMAN TWILL

Ever notice how bathrobes are described in novels as "dirty," "tattered," "decrepit" and so on?

They're the same in plays. Bathrobes are the symptom of something untidy in the makeup of man.

I was looking at mine this morning after my roommate of the opposite sex had made slurring remarks about its decrepitude. She was right. It looks terrible.

But she is wrong when she concludes it looks terrible because of its wearer's indifference. The opposite is true.

That bathrobe is evidence of devotion.

The smudges on the sleeves are furnace soot from stoking up the central heating facility in the morning so everything will be toasty by sunrise.

The egg yolk on the front is bright yellow proof of matutinal hustle-bustle; there isn't even time for yolk to hit the chin, so rapidly are things moving.

That bathrobe is an all-purpose garment—an Occidental counterpart of a Chinese coolie's padded "coat." It is one man's concession that the Orient has emerged with a better idea.

Nothing beats a bathrobe for general purpose wear and tear. In the dead of winter, it is the perfect foundation garment for dashes into the teeth of the elements, as when delivering packages to departing cars, scraping ice off windshields, starting balky engines.

In summer, it is perfect morning attire for strolling in a dew-crystallized garden, or for ruminate rambles with a coffee cup, the greatest single reward of rural living in an age geared "to keeping up appearances."

A bathrobe is ideal for hosing down basements, washing automobiles and scrubbing porches. No trouser cuffs to soak up water, no ungarded boot tops to catch a undirected stream of water.

It is unbeatable for meals either eaten hurriedly at the table or leisurely in bed, or on a davenport, as during illnesses and indispositions.

It is unsurpassed for woodworking, painting and metal-smithing, because then it serves as a smock while continuing to serve as a substitute for pants and a shirt.

For comfort while writing with a pencil or on a typewriter, it is without equal.

No one ever had a better idea for naps and all-night sleepers when a sleeper eschews routine retirement in favor of lying down whenever and wherever the mood suggests.

If my bathrobe (it takes four to serve all these purposes) looks gamey it's because the garments reflect the vicissitudes of tractor repairing, a nimal husbandry, slumber, furniture staining, auto maintenance, gardening, transplanting, wood-chopping, bird-watching, snack-snatching, tooth-brushing and whisker-slicing.

It seems probable my bathrobe also must be used for wearing after taking a bath, but this function does not check out.

I have wracked my mind to think of a time when any bathrobe I ever possessed was used to wrap me up in after taking a bath. I always carry my bathrobe when leaving the bathroom after bathing.

But the garment has no after-bathing function. It is, rather, a garment worn before bathing. As I said before, it's like a Chinese coolie's padded coat—a completely functional item of apparel. If it gets dirty it can be rejuvenated in no longer than it takes to wash and dry it. No ironing. No buttons. No zippers. No shape. No pride of appearance. Just a "dirty," "tattered" and "decrepit" old bathrobe.

himself in the university with several hundred youthful followers.

The two others in the junta — Joseph Ortiz, leader of the National French Front, and Jacques Souni, leader of right-wing student organizations — seized a corner bank building.

In the band with Ortiz and Souni were several uniformed officers of the Algerian home guard. They hoisted a red, white and blue tricolor flag in front of their makeshift barricade.

French troops who have been fighting Algerian nationalists in the interior were hurried to Algiers to help police restore order.

The simmering resentment of European settlers against De Gaulle's Algerian policy was sparked into revolt by his firing of Gen. Jacques Massu as military and civilian commander of the Algerians area.

Massu was the hero of the million French settlers who are determined to keep Algeria French and one of the leaders of the 1958 revolt here that led to the overthrow of the fourth French Republic and paved the way for De Gaulle to assume power.

STREET SCENES

THE STREET is the pathway of life for many of the residents of Karachi, Pakistan. The city's sidewalks bustle with traffic in everything from haircuts to education. Anyone walking down the street can run into merchants doing all kinds of business. With no roof but the sky, no floor but the pavement, these sidewalk salesmen cater to a mobile population. Barbers, clothiers and firewood vendors are but a few of these businessmen. Children are a common sight, sitting in clusters on the street. They aren't loitering—they're attending school, with their teacher sitting among them. Buyers of firewood bring their versions of the shopping cart, a wooden three-wheeler, to the mountains of firewood and then cart their purchases home.

Scrappy Sebring Squad Handed 92-63 Defeat By Salem

Hunter Tallies 25; Solmen Sparkles

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
A scrappy but outclassed Sebring High cage squad got caught in the swirl of Salem basketball fury on the local court Saturday night and limped home with a 92-63 bruising, its worst defeat of the season.
Coach John Cabas' Quakers displayed their best team effort of the season in chalking up victory number nine in 10 games. The defeat for Sebring was its sixth. The Trojans have won four.
Dave Hunter once again led the Salem attack with 25 points, but he received considerable scoring support from his teammates.
Jim Solmen, who nudged 6-5 Eric Theiss out of the starting lineup for the first time this season, turned in a strong performance, notching 15 points.
Forward Jim Lehwald tore apart the Trojan defense in the first half with his deadly left-handed jump shot from just outside the key. The 6-1 senior hooped 15 points, all but one of them in the first half.
DON DAVIDSON also hit in double figures for Salem. The 6-4 junior chipped in with 11 markers. His 13 rebounds were high for both teams.
Salem's other starter, Dan Krichbaum, showed that he still has the magic touch on long shots. The clever 5-10 senior fired only eight times at the hoop but connected on half of them. He contributed nine points.
Coach Cabas started clearing his bench early in the fourth quarter. Hunter and Krichbaum both sat out the last six minutes of the contest. Davidson departed a half minute after the guards retired.
Theiss didn't make his first appearance in the game until midway through the second quarter when he took over for Solmen. He wound up with six points, including a perfect four for four from the foul line.
SOLMEN'S PERFORMANCE against the Trojans probably earned him another crack at a starting assignment against Youngstown on Rayen here on Tuesday. His presence in the lineup gives the team more maneuverability and speed. However, at 6-1 1/2 Solmen is giving away three and a half inches to Theiss who is a better rebounder.
The rangy Salem team has, on occasion, shown some rebounding weaknesses. Davidson is the Quakers' best man on the boards, but he is frequently slow in falling back on defense if he misses the rebound.
Although Sebring was no match for the smooth operating Quaker machine, the 63 points the Trojans scored was the most that have been racked up against Salem this year. Despite the lopsided defeat, Sebring experienced its third best scoring night of the season.
Ray Dorr, 6-0 junior, led the Sebring attack with 14 points. Joe McAbier, 5-9 senior, and Craig Steed, 5-10 sophomore, sank 13 and 11 points, respectively, for Coach Alva Tetlow's quintet.
SALEM STARTED off in the first half as if it would hit the century mark in scoring for the first time this season. The Quakers jumped off to a 28-15 lead at the quarter mark and were on top 51-34 at halftime.
Solmen and Hunter kept firing the ball in during the third period, and the Quakers emerged with a 75-50 lead going into the final eight minutes of play.
Sebring refused to cooperate in Salem's drive for the 100-point mark. With Salem on top 79-50 and about 6:15 remaining in the contest, the Trojans went into a semi-freeze whenever they got the ball. The Quakers outscored the Trojans 17-13 in the fourth quarter when both coaches substituted freely.

Ten men broke into the scoring column for Salem and seven for Sebring.
Salem experienced another fine night from the field. Led by the incomparable all-state candidate, Dave Hunter, who connected on 10 of 16 shots, the Quakers posted a 45.6 per cent accuracy mark in field goals. They canned 36 of 79 shots.
SEBRING RECORDED a good 41.5 per cent mark from the field but they got only 53 shots away, 22 of which found their mark.
From the foul line, Salem was 20 for 31 and Sebring 19 for 26. Officials James Migliore and M. J. Maro called 19 fouls on Sebring and 18 on the Quakers.
The 29-point margin was the second worst defeat handed to a team by the Quakers this year. Only the 77-37 smashing of Akron North was more convincing.
The Quakers were moving the ball faster Saturday night and showed less hesitancy in shooting from outside. They appeared to be relaxed and confident following their tight game at Niles the previous night.
The usual capacity crowd here of approximately 2,200 persons sat in on the game.
DURING HALFTIME of the varsity billing, Pat Kaercher, a Salem High senior, was crowned "Basketball Sweetheart" by co-captains Dave Hunter and Dan Krichbaum. Miss Kaercher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kaercher of 924 E. Pershing St., won out over five other candidates selected by the basketball team.
Attendants were Carolyn Wank, Debbie Harris, Bonnie Schuster, Beverly Caudill and Diane Dawson. Sally Foster, captain of the varsity cheerleaders who sponsored the contest, reports that approximately 3,600 votes were cast by high school students who paid a penny a vote. Profits will be used to help buy new uniforms or to send one of the varsity cheerleaders to a camp this summer.

Eskay Scores 17 to Pace Salem Jayvees to 69-40 Win

Bob Eskay, one of the bright stars in Salem High's basketball future, sank 17 points in two quarters of play against the Sebring Jayvees here Saturday to lead the Quaker reserves to an easy 69-40 victory.
The little sophomore guard scored from all over the court in registering five field goals and seven fouls. He picked up all of his points in the first and third periods.

Wellsville Upset By Steubenville

Loss Is Second of Year for Tigers

The Wellsville Tigers, 12th-ranked in state AA standings last week in the Associated Press poll, were handed their second loss of the season Saturday 67-44 by Steubenville Central on the winners' floor.
Steubenville, which had been blasted by East Liverpool 71-38 on Friday night, forged to a 22-16 at the end of the first period.
Wellsville narrowed the gap in the second stanza to 34-32 and spurred in the third period to hold a 53-47 bulge entering the final frame.
The Tigers apparently were hampered by the narrow confines of the dimly lighted floor at the Community Center where Steubenville plays its home contests.
Wellsville had been selected by area sportscribes to win handily.
Hoe Polishaw tallied 22 markers to pace Central to its upset victory.
High scorers for the losers were Franklin Jackson with 24 and Bob Kiggins who netted 18.
Prior to its defeat Saturday night Wellsville had lost only to Midland by a score of 71-43. The Tigers have won eight games.
Wellsville's next contest will be Friday at home against Salem.

Canfield Wins Third Game In Loop Play

Canfield won its third Inter-County League victory without a defeat by humbling the McDonald Blue Devils 63-50 Saturday night at McDonald.
Four Canfield players hit in double figures. Bill Anderson took down scoring honors with 18 markers. Anderson's effort against McDonald left him just one point behind Tom Sopkovich for the team scoring lead this season. Sopkovich connected for 12 points on Saturday to run his total to 126.
McDonald was paced by Ron Kucynski who registered 15 markers.
Canfield led all the way, holding quarter margins of 14-11, 29-21 and 49-31.
The victory for Canfield was its fourth straight and seventh in all games. McDonald has won five and lost eight.

Greenford Bows 62-39 To Lowellville

Coach Jerry Sues' Greenford Bobcats gave powerful Lowellville all it could handle for two periods but stumbled in the second half to drop a 62-39 decision to the Rockets Saturday on the winners' home court.
Lowellville, the state's seventh ranked Class A team, led 13-11 at the quarter mark and only 26-22 at halftime. However, the Rockets turned on the steam in the third quarter when they outscored the Bobcats 21-4.
The victory for unbeaten Lowellville was its 11th straight. Greenford has now won five and lost six.
Bill Robb with 14 points and Ken Camp with 13 featured for the Rockets. Clyde Shoff and Dick Lodwick tallied 12 apiece for the Bobcats.

Ashland Snaps Defiance's Win Streak; Ohio University Wins

United Led To 77-41 Win By Summer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1956 The Associated Press picked an All-Ohio Class AA high school basketball team.
The five were John Milhoan of Gallipolis, Larry Willey of Defiance, Jerry Lucas of Middletown, Jim Darrow of Akron South, and Gary Hornsby of Hamilton.
Where are they today?
Well, Darrow, now at Bowling Green, is the country's fourth-best scorer with a 15-game average of 28.3, and is head man in the rugged Mid-American Conference. Milhoan, Marshall's mightiest, is second in the Mid-American with a 23.4 average, and has made 27 of 32 free throws, third best average in the country.
Lucas, with a 13-game average of 27.4, is the land's fifth-best scorer and has paced Ohio State to four straight wins in the Big Ten. Willey, playing in the shadow of Oscar Robertson at Cincinnati, has the nation's best field goal percentage with .671. Lucas holding second with .611.
Hornsby, as a sophomore, was the sixth man on Cincinnati's 1958 team and probably would have been a top-flight regular now. But he married and dropped out of school, and is now a standout in a Hamilton industrial loop.
No wonder odt-of-state talent seeking coaches look on Ohio as the "happy hunting grounds."
Ohio's collegiate cagers go into this week's slate, abbreviated by semester exams, without an unbeaten representative. Ashland upped Defiance by 96-94 Saturday to erase the last of the clean-record teams, throwing the Mid-Ohio loop race into turmoil. Defiance still leads with 4-1, but Ashland and Ohio Northern are next with 4-2 in what had appeared earlier to be a runaway as Defiance won its first 11.
Ohio University roared to a 100-72 win over Kent State Saturday and moved into a tie with Toledo at 5-1 for the top spot in the Mid-American, well ahead of Bowling Green's third-place 3-2.
Akron also won a big one in convincing fashion, 93-53 over Wooster, to knock the Scots out of second place in the Ohio Conference. Oberlin, a 64-60 victor over Mount Union, eased into a runner-up tie with Akron at 5-1. Wittenberg's idle club holding the top with 6-0. Wooster had been all alone at 4-1 for second in last week's ratings.
Cincinnati's national pacesetter settled for a 61-58 win over Duquesne at Pittsburgh as the Keystone Staters held Oscar Robertson to 13 points, his lowest collegiate output. The "Big O" clung to the national scoring lead, however, with a 15-game total of 544 for a 36.2 average.
Ohio State made good on its first Big Ten road trip, blasting Purdue 85-71 at Lafayette as Lucas contributed 27 points although out of the fray for more than eight minutes because of fouls. He was outscored as Terry Dischinger of the Boilermakers, best in the Big Ten, stuffed in 32.
The victory moved the Bucks far out front in the Western Conference with 4-0, Iowa's second-place Hawkeyes having a 4-2 record, and the next four being deadlocked at 3-2. The Ohioans entertain Michigan State (3-2) here next Saturday, and Michigan (0-3) next Monday.
After winning 12 of 22 interstate games last week the Ohio clubs hold a 123-82 edge over out-of-state clubs for the season.

Goshen Union Rolls Over North Lima

Goshen Union pulled away from North Lima in the second half to chalk up a 63-51 Inter-County League victory Saturday at Damascus.
Lynn Barnett had another big night for the Gophers, scoring 21 points. Dick Loudon and Chuck Brown, the number two and three leading scorers for the Gophers this season, contributed 14 and 11 points, respectively.
John James was high point man for North Lima with 15.
The two teams were knotted at 11-11 at the close of the first quarter. Goshen moved on top 32-28 by halftime and poured it on in the third quarter to take a commanding 47-35 lead.
The win snapped a two-game losing streak for Goshen which has won five contests and dropped six. McDonald is three up and eight down for the season.
Goshen-63
Barnett 10-1-21; Brown 5-1-11; Loudon 6-2-14; Shreve 0-2-2; Wilson 3-2-8; Wallace 3-1-7.
North Lima-51

Western Reserve Goes Down to 9th Loss In 11 Games

Western Reserve got an encouraging performance out of junior Bill Knutti but the Blue Devils went down to their ninth defeat in 11 games Saturday. Atwater beat them 77-55 at Berlin Center.
Knutti, a 6-0 center, popped in 40 points, half of them on fouls, in Western Reserve's losing cause. The junior has spent most of time this season on the bench. He had a total of only 13 varsity points prior to his big splurge against Atwater.
Coach Dick Nace has thrown 14 men into the varsity lineup this season in search of a winning combination. Thus far, though, his team only has managed victories over Springfield Local and Farmington in 11 contests.
The Blue Devils were out of the game early against Atwater. Western Reserve was down 20-10 at the quarter mark, 41-27 at the half and 57-38 after three periods.
George Briggs was the big man for Atwater. He hooped 25 points.
Atwater-77
Huber 0-2-2; Clouts 4-1-9; Loudin 5-3-13; Briggs 11-3-25; Vance 1-2-4; Whittlesby 2-5-9; Newman 4-5-13; Campbell 1-0-2.

Hiram Invitational Wrestling Tourney Won By Beaver

Beaver Local's crack wrestling squad walked away from nine other schools to win the sixth annual Hiram invitational wrestling tournament at Hiram College Saturday.
The Beavers registered 82 points, 25 more than runner-up Willoughby South. Coach Jack O'Rourke's talented grapplers grabbed first places in five of the 11 weight divisions. Eight of their 11 boys placed.
First place winners from Beaver Local were Chuck Timmons, 103 pounds; Francis Passage 112 pounds; Larry Yost, 127 pounds; Carl Hoppel, 135 pounds; Harvey Campbell, 175 pounds.
Hoppel had to beat two undefeated wrestlers to capture the 135 pound title. Bob McBane of the Beavers captured a second place in the 145 pound class.
The Beavers will go to the mats again on Saturday at Mentor.
Here is how the teams finished in the two-day tournament at Hiram:
Beaver Local 82, Willoughby South 57, Kent State High 40, Louisville 39, Brecksville 36, Kenston 32, Ravenna Twp. 23, Chagrin Falls 21, Canton Lincoln 20 and Rootstown 16.
Kent, Conn. — Ray (Sonny) Schlamp, 134, New York, knocked out Ray O'Connor, 137, Providence, R. I., 2.

Venturi Wins Crosby Tourney

Aims for Classic At Palm Springs

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—After slogging through a wet but profitable victory in Bing Crosby's golfing show, Ken Venturi set his sights today on even higher stakes.
The slender San Franciscan collected $5,350 in the crooner's 19th annual clambake, which ended Sunday in one of the worst storms ever to plague the event. Now the 28-year-old Venturi aims for the $100,000 Desert Classi cat Palm Springs with its $12,000 top award two weeks hence.
He is skipping this week's $20,000 San Diego Open, where many of the touring pros go from Pebble Beach.
The Crosby windup was probably enjoyed more by the national TV audience (ABC) than by the 8,000 who braved the elements here.
Venturi started in the wind and rain with a two-stroke edge over Gene Littler of San Diego. The test quickly turned into a wide open finale when Ken three-putted the third hole from five feet.
It wasn't until almost the finish that Venturi emerged victorious with a four-round score of 286—the highest since the Crosby was extended to 72 holes three years ago.
Six bogeys and just one birdie gave him a five-over-par 77 over the wind-lashed Pebble Beach layout, stretching 6,700 yards along the Monterey Bay cliffs.
But his 286 was three strokes better than the 289s with which former U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and boyish Tommy Jacobs of Arcadia, Calif., tied for second. Boros scored a fine 73 and Jacobs 75. No one equalled par 72.

Lopsided Scores Mark Contests In Church Leagues

Lopsided basketball scores continue to turn up in the city's Church Leagues.
St. Paul A gave St. Paul B a 44-2 working over in a Class C game played on Saturday in the Junior High gym. Scores of 36-1, 33-1 and 34-2 were also recorded.

Scoring Record Set by Reeves In J-M Victory

Jackson-Milton's big Jim Reeves, the area's most prolific scorer, set a new school scoring record Saturday night by pouring in 38 points in leading the Blue Jays to a 59-42 victory over invading Mineral Ridge.
The 6-4 senior was the whole show against the Ridgers. Reeves picked up his record-breaking 38 points on 16 field goals and six free throws. He raised his 12-game point average to a phenomenal 25.4. Reeves has tallied 305 points this season.
The win for Jackson-Milton was its fifth in 12 games. Mineral Ridge is now 6-8.

This is the night college basketball learns if Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats still have the knack for winning the big ones.

OSU Thumps Purdue 85-71

Buckeyes Setting Pace In Big Ten
By The Associated Press
The Big Ten basketball pattern is set. Ohio State is well out in front and the rest of the league has to try to catch up.
Ranked fifth nationally, Ohio State scored its fourth conference victory without defeat by dumping Purdue 85-71 Saturday on the Boilermakers' home floor.
It was the first conference game the Buckeyes have played off their home floor and it made little difference. Ohio jumped in front early and stayed there.
Sophomores Terry Dischinger of Purdue and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State provided the only duel in the game. Dischinger led all scorers with 32 points while playing the entire game.
Lucas, who out-rebounded Dischinger 13-10 and sat out 8 minutes, topped Ohio State with 27 points.

While Ohio State was up to the task of winning away from home, its two closest rivals—Iowa and Minnesota—failed to do so.
Iowa dropped a 90-80 decision at Michigan State and Minnesota edged at Northwestern 62-61 on Ralph Wells' free throw in the last nine seconds.
Iowa (4-2) retained second place but Minnesota (3-2) dropped into a third-place tie with Michigan State, Northwestern and idle Illinois.
Only one conference game is scheduled tonight, Minnesota at Iowa in what appears to be a battle for survival.
Ohio State still must play six of its last eight games on the road, which could spell trouble if any other teams get hot.
Northwestern coach Bill Rohr gave Minnesota an excellent chance for the title even after his Wildcats beat the Gophers.
"Minnesota still is in the Big Ten race," said Rohr. "I think Minnesota, Indiana and Michigan State all have a good chance of beating Ohio State, especially on their home floors."

Scoring Record Set by Reeves In J-M Victory
Jackson-Milton's big Jim Reeves, the area's most prolific scorer, set a new school scoring record Saturday night by pouring in 38 points in leading the Blue Jays to a 59-42 victory over invading Mineral Ridge.
The 6-4 senior was the whole show against the Ridgers. Reeves picked up his record-breaking 38 points on 16 field goals and six free throws. He raised his 12-game point average to a phenomenal 25.4. Reeves has tallied 305 points this season.
The win for Jackson-Milton was its fifth in 12 games. Mineral Ridge is now 6-8.

16 Members Vie In Hunt Club Shoot

The Salem Hunting Club held its regular monthly shoot at the club range Sunday with 16 members participating.
Chester Bert of Sebring took first place in the pistol event. He was followed by James Ivan and John Kessig, both of Salem.
In the off hand event, Mrs. James Ivan was first; Lester Cox of Warren was second; and James Ivan was third.
Lester Marshall of Salem topped first place in the .22 bench rest. Ray Metzger of Salem was second and James Ivan was third.
Mrs. Dave Kirby and James Ivan won special prizes. The monthly traveling trophies went to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan.
The next shoot will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Feb. 28 at the club range.

KSU Plans Dinner For Coaching Grads

Kent State University's athletic department will hold a buffet dinner and meeting on Feb. 18 for all coaching graduates of the school.
Football Coach Trevor Rees, the chairman of the invitations committee, said that all KSU alumni who are coaching are welcome to attend.
The dinner will be held in the university's Student Union at 7 p.m.
The Los Angeles Dodgers capitalized on the hunt in 1959. They registered 100 sacrifice hits, 23 more than the Pirates, their nearest competitor.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 24, a green-eyed redhead, well proportioned and very mixed up.

Six months ago I fell in love with an ad executive. He was strangely evasive about where he lived but I never thought much about it. Yesterday he phoned to say he had a bad case of flu and could not make our date. I decided to surprise him with some hot chicken soup. I got his address from his boss.

Rick was sick all right and he became a lot sicker when he saw me at his door. At first he said he was too ill to let me in but I insisted. The first thing I noticed was a frilly robe on the back of a chair, then some satin bedroom slippers plus a woman's handbag and gloves. I asked for an explanation.

He told me a young girl he'd known in Peoria was out of work and friendless. She couldn't pay her rent so he let her move in for a few weeks. He swore there was nothing between them and begged me to have faith in him. Would you? — RED.

Dear Red: Would I what? Believe he's playing House Mother to a friendless girl from Peoria? No.

If your boy friend wanted to be a junior-grade philanthropist he could have advanced the girl some rent money — or asked a woman friend to take her in for a few weeks. Tell him to haul down the flag. Nobody in his right mind would salute it.

Return Engagement

Dear Ann: You helped me several months ago so I'm turning to you again. I'm so happy I followed your advice because now I realize how right you were.

I'm the girl with the withered left arm who wanted to wear my engagement ring on my crippled hand. You advised me to wear the ring on the other hand. You even explained why I wanted to wear the ring on my left hand. And you were right. I was subconsciously flaunting my deformity to show people I could get a wonderful fellow in spite of my handicap.

Now I'm making plans for the wedding. I've always wanted to wear a bridal gown but perhaps I shouldn't because of my arm. Do you think if I carried a large bouquet it would help? Please tell me what to do. I was wrong before and I may be wrong again. — S.C.

Dear S.C.: By all means wear a bridal gown and carry a large bouquet. And my heartiest congratulations!

Poor Relationship

Dear Ann: My husband and I moved into his mother's home when we married nine years ago. His mother has been employed all this time. We paid rent and took care of the utility bills.

Now his mother is retiring from her job and wants to sell us her home. She thinks she should live with us for nothing. She'll be getting a pension so it's not as if she will be penniless.

My husband feels this is perfectly all right. I say it isn't fair. She has three daughters besides this son. — DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: Your signature tells me more than your letter. More important than whether or not your mother-in-law should pay is the fact that you have a poor relationship with her and therefore you shouldn't live together under any conditions.

It would be far better if your mother-in-law could get an apartment alone. I recommend this even if it means all four children must pitch in to supplement the pension.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 16 who would like to tell all parents to please let their teen-agers find their own dates.

I worked part time in a jewelry store over the holidays. A woman who came in to buy gifts took a liking to me. She asked if I had a steady fella and I said no. The next day she came back with an 8x10 picture of her son. He looks handsome and I said I would go out with him.

When he came to pick me up I wanted to crawl into the woodwork. He was a head shorter than I and wore a fireman-red vest and a derby. My brother laughed so hard I heard him from the next room.

The guy was a smartaleck and very dull company. He bragged a lot and I had a miserable evening. I should have known that any boy whose mother has to find him a date must be a nothing. Print this as a warning to other girls—STOOP.

Dear Stoop: Some blind dates work out well. A girl has to make up her mind whether or not she wants to risk it.

In most instances it's the fellow who is disappointed. (And it's more difficult to get a guy to stand still for a blind date than a girl.)

For teen-agers who are not adventurous, a pre-date coffee huddle is a good gimmick to decide whether or not you want to devote an entire precious evening to someone you've never seen.

Family Mystery

Dear Ann: My cousin married a man who is a mystery to all of us. This is her first marriage, his third.

He gets absolutely blotto on one drink. Have you ever heard of anything like this? Is it possible? No one in the family can understand it. When they came to our home for the evening during the holidays he was cold sober. After a single shot of bourbon he was knocked out of his mind. What do you make of this?—ESMIRALDA.

Dear Es: It is possible that one drink means one drunk. However, I suspect the fellow had a little start before he showed up at your place. Frequently people who appear to get loaded on very little have managed to get well fortified before setting out for the evening.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.

Don't Be Tranquil About Tranquilizers

Ever so many correspondents want to know the best tranquilizer to take for nervousness. It doesn't seem to occur to them that nervousness may be a very valuable asset, or that taking tranquilizers may be harmful.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

You've only to read accounts of tragic accidents in your daily newspaper to get some appreciation of the value of nervousness.

Albert Camus, a recent winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature, might be alive today if he'd told his companion — driver that a speed of 80 miles an hour on a country road made him "nervous."

Five children, burned to death in their beds, might be alive today if their parents had been "too nervous" to leave them alone while they visited a local tavern.

And scores of vacationers might not have drowned if they'd been "too nervous" to attempt a distance swim across a wide lake.

ON THE OTHER hand, nervousness may be a liability. It may prevent an able person from seeking employment or holding a job in an occupation that involves a reasonable risk.

It may keep a tourist from enjoying a view from a mountain top or from cooling off in waters deeper than shoulder level. It may alienate children from a mother whose constant warnings interfere with their progress or their fun.

From these examples, you may perhaps conclude that it would be stupid to tranquilize the person whose nervousness served a useful purpose. And with this, I would be in complete agreement.

SOME OF YOU who can remember back half a century, may recall the harm done by a famous "soothing syrup" that was recommended for crying babies, and by an equally famous preparation that was reputed to be a specific for the relief of "female disorders."

Well, the principal ingredient of the "soothing syrup" was opium, and the preparation was essentially gin. We've since found better ways to care for these niatters.

From the standpoint of the principles of treatment, tranquilizers do not differ from the opium soothing syrup or the gin preparation.

BUT THEY CAN and do cause much more damage to the human body, although this unhappy fact is not emphasized (to put it mildly) to nonprofessional audiences or even to prescribing physicians.

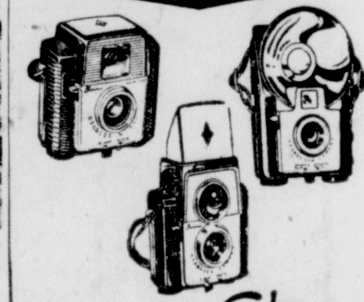

I shan't attempt to estimate the number of deaths, attributable to the administration of normal doses of tranquilizers. Nor shall I try to list the variety of undesirable side reactions that may accompany desired tranquilization.

But I do insist that you'd be wise to exhaust every nonmedicinal means for controlling justifiable nervousness before you resort to opium, alcoholic beverages or tranquilizer pills.
